of the Popocratic campaign to create the impression everywhere that the workmen, especially those employed by the railroads, are really in favor of the free coinage of silver, and show opposition to it only because in some way forced into so doing by their employers. The demonstration by railroad employes in this city last Saturday furnishes a flat denial to such state-Nothing in the shape of compulsion would have brought out so many thousands of men on an occasion when no vote was to be cast, nor could compulsion have enlisted the ingenuity and taste in devices which made the display one of the most interesting of the campaign. On top of it all, however, comes the announcement that the Chicago and Alton road management is to give all its employes an opportunity to see and hear Bryan when he visits Bloomington tomorrow. The general shope in this city will be closed all day, and all men that can possibly be spared from their work along the line of the road will have a holiday. General Superintendent Gray says of this decision of his road:

'A railroad is not a political machine. Its employes belong to all political faiths. When men are hired they are not asked how they vote. Their tenure of service depends entirely on the kind of service they render. Some of our men kind of service they render. Some of our men desire to participate in the doings of Tuesday. On the part of all there is a perfectly natural desire to see and hear a man who has been so prominently in the public eye, and I can see no harm in giving them a chance to gratify that feeling. Our men are free American citizens, and I have nothing to do with either their politics or their religion. It is for the interest of the rallroads to have stable finances, but not to a greater degree than for the employes. If there is a panic and suffering, we all suffer together. We have perfect confidence in our employes, both as employes and as citizens. They are men of a high order of intelligence, and are reading and thinking men. The issues of the campaign have been thoroughly discussed by the newspapers and the orators, and our men have had the opportunity to make up their minds. I believe the vast majority of them will vote for sound money because they believe their own interests would be and for no other reason.

"All this talk about coercion is nothing but a political trick of demagogues, playing on popular prejudices. This talk of coercion is an outrage on the railway employes of the country. Of course, we have a desire that our employes shall vote for sound money. We are interested in their course as much as a man who is a Republican is interested in his son espousing the Republican principles, believing that this would be better for himself and for the son." desire to participate in the doings of Tuesday.

CHANGES IN A CLUB'S DECORATIONS.

Instructions were given to the House Committee of the Cook County Democracy yesterday to "certain necessary alterations in the indecorations of the clubrooms." This, in itself, is an apparently innocent order, but there is more in it than appears on the surface. The information went the rounds among the older members that the intention was to take down from the wall, where they have so long hung in honored array the portraits of men who have in years past made the club famous for being the representative Democratic body of the Northwest, but who have long since ceased to agree with the Populistic majority which now controls the organization. For some time the free-silver men have murmured when they looked upon the countenances of those now no longer in sympathy with them. Perhaps they did not like to be reminded of the fact that the club has degenerated from a Democratic to a socialistic body, or perhaps the feeling was one of pure enmity, such as most of the free-coinage advocates are said to feel toward those who differ from them in opinion. itself, is an apparently innocent order, but there who differ from them in opinion.

At any rate, the demand has been made that they go, and unless the more conservative members prevail on the others not to take a step which cannot redound to their credit, the pictures will have to be removed. The most prominent and biggest of all is that of Grover Cleveland. The portrait of the President is a very fine nent and biggest of all is that of Grover Cleveland. The portrait of the President is a very fine
one. It is done in oils and is an excellent likeness, besides being most skilfully colored. There is a picture of Senator Palmer. This, too, it is said, must come down, although the General is at present engaged in trying to preserve that very Democracy for the glory of which the club was founded. Over at the east end of the room, just to the right of the rostrum, where for a long time John P. Hopkins sat as chairman of the Democracy, hangs a crayon of the quondam president. This picture may possibly remain.
The ex-Mayor was popular during his reign over the affairs of the club, and there are many members who will not submit to having this slight the affairs of the club, and there are many members who will not submit to having this slight put upon him. The free-silver men suggested as a substitute that the pictures be turned toward the wall, but Mr. Hopkins's friends declared that should this be done his image would be found drawn up on the other side, in accordance with his faculty for bobbing up serenely wherever he is put, despite the machinations of his

been mailed, the total registration for the coming election cannot fail below 372,064, or 366,523 for Chicago proper. As more than half the names to which suspect notices have been mailed are not likely to be stricken from the registration, the probability at this writing is that the net registration for Chicago will stand in the neighborhood of 370,000. General surprise has been expressed that in a city of nearly two million souls so few women should esteem the limited suffrage worth the effort of registering. In a city of the size of Chicago there are probably over half a million women of voting age, at least 400,000 of whom must be eligible for the limited suffrage. In October, 1894, 29,865 women registered in Chicago and 823 in Cicco. Of these 23,479 in Chicago voted for trustees of the Linversity, and 630 in Cicco.

There are only two ways of accounting for this. Two years ago any sort of suffrage was a new thing, and every believer in the extension of the suffrage to women in Chicago worked actively and persistently to get them to register. The result was a registration of about 10 per cent of the eligible women votera. This year, the novelty of registering and voting having worn off, the novelty-loving section of the sex has not been attracted to the polling-booths, where nothing was to be accomplished. Another influence operated to repress women registering. Men and women everywhere throughout the city felt that this year there was too much at stake to permit women, who could not vote on the main issue, standing in line and delaying, possibly preventing, the registration or voting of men who could. This of line and delaying, possibly preventing, the regis-tration or voting of men who could. This of itself kept many women from registering.

The largest odds yet given in this campaign on any State were recorded at the Calumet Club here a few evenings ago. A wager was made, and the money posted, of $5,000 to $1 that McKinley would carry Pennsylvania.

One of the officials at the Republican National Committee's headquarters wagered $100 even today with a well-known Washington newspaper correspondent that McKinley would carry Illinois by 100,000 plurality.

ON GUARD AGAINST CAMPAIGN LIES.

ON GUARD AGAINST CAMPAIGN LIES. The literary productions of the Democratic Campaign Committee during the week just past have led the Republican managers to believe that in the final days before election an output of matter calculated to arouse prejudice, too late of matter calculated to arouse prejudice, too late to have it stayed, may be looked for. Warnings will be sent to every State chairman to be on the alert for anything of this character. This watchfulness will be the principal thing the managers will be burdened with during the meek. The great work of education and the aligning of the forces has practically been completed. By the middle of the week the work of the speakers' bureaus will be at an end. and there will be nothing to do but wait for the results. There will be one particular feature of the week, however, at Republican head-quarters. Within the next few days all the chairmen of the State Central Committees under the direction of the Chicago headquarters will come to this city to confer with Chairman will come to this city to confer with Chairman Hanna. It will be the windup of the work of three busy months. The State chairmen will bring with them their last reports of the conditions in their States, and wherever there is a weak point in any Congress district due attention will be directed to it.

WORKING FOR SOUND MONEY.

Chairman Bynum of the Democratic National Sound Money Committee has returned to headquarters from Winona, Minn., where he made a speech on Saturday night. On Friday night he spoke at Oshkosh, Wis., under the auspices of the National Democratic State Commit-tee of that State Chairman Bynum says that spices of the National Democratic State Committee of that State Chairman Bynum says that his audiences at both places not only exceeded his own expectations, but those of the most sanguine friends of the movement in either State. While he was in Winona he had occasion to meet a great many leaders who are interested in the success of sound money, and he says that as a result of his interviews he is entirely satisfied with the outlook in that State.

"I understand from newspapers and other reports," said Chairman Bynum, "that there is a feeling that Minnesota is not safe for sound money. I cannot say that my personal observation and experience accord in any manner with that feeling, for I consider the State perfectly safe and reliable for a sound-money majority. So far as Wisconsin is concerned, there has never been any doubt about the result these since the Indianapolis Convention."

Colonel Davidson, of the McKinley Commercial Travellers' Club, returned from St. Louis, where he has been assisting in the final preparations being made to carry Missouri for sound money. For the next eight days that State will be the hottest place on the map, so far as political activity is concerned. On Wednesday five special trains will leave St. Louis to carry into all parts of the State speakers who will preach protection and sound money. Each train will run over a different railroad system, and stop at every town big enough to have a station. Twenty speakers will go on each train, making 100 in all. Most of them will be travelling men. The railroads over which the trains will start are the Burlington, 'Frisco, Wabash, Missouri, Kansas and Texas and Missouri Pacific.

MR. FORMAN AND THE BARBER.

MR. FORMAN AND THE BARBER.

"I had an amusing experience the other day," said W. S. Forman, candidate for Governor of Illinois on the Sound Money Democratic ticket. "While getting shaved, the barber who was operating on my face of course began to talk he was going to vote. 'I'm with the masses; I'm a Bryan man,' said he in reply. Then I asked him if Chicago would give Bryan a majority. "he answered. 'Nine out of every ten men I meet say they are going to vote for McKinley The workingmen seem to be the same way Every man with a job is afraid he will lose it if Bryan wins, and every man out of work thinks he can get employment if McKinley is elected. And I guess that's about the way it is," said Mr. Forman. "The public is finding out that to frighten capital is no way to contribute to the prosperity of the country. Still, that barber was 'with the masses,' in spite of the fact that he admitted Bryan would be defeated in Chicago."

GRAND MASTER SARGENT FOR M'KINLEY.

THINKS HE STANDS FOR THE BEST INTERESTS OF THE WAGE-EARNERS.

Everybody was busy and full of hope about the headquarters of the Republican National Committee yesterday. Cheering news continues to pour in from all parts of the country. The advices reeived by the committee from those State Republican speakers have met with violence and insult indicate that in all such cases the sober majority of the citizens greatly deprecate the acts of

To-day I stand pronounced for sound money. I have no desire to see this country adopt a polley which will result in a depreciated currency and the repudiation of honest debts. I am for silver as long as a silver dollar is worth just what it states on its face, that will circulate equally with gold in the payment of all debts, and also when that dollar is backed by the credit of the Government. If it will be of any satisfaction to you to know where I stand at the present time, I want to say to you very emphatically that I shall vote for William McKinley, that I believe he represents the best interests of the American people, and especially of the wage-workers.

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 26.—Senator Butter's paper will to-morrow publish an estimate of the vote in North Carolina. It will say:

"There are 223,000 white voters in the State, of whom 60,000 are Republicans and 68,000 Populists, but to be on the safe side, we will say 50,000 each. This leaves 123,000 as the maximum number of votes the Democrats can poll for their State ticket. The Republicans and Populists on their co-operation ticket will have 109,000 colored voters who will vote white Republicans and 50,000 Populists, and the total is 212,000, a difference of 56,000 in favor of cois a family cathartic. THE BIG PARADE ORGANIZED

A WONDERFUL DEMONSTRATION OF THE DEMAND FOR SOUND MONEY.

GENERAL PORTER SAYS THAT MORE MEN THAN DIVISIONS WILL BE FORMING HOURS AFTER THE FIRST

General Horace Porter, grand marshal of the blg parade in the interest of sound money to be held on Saturday, said yesterday that he expected to have times larger than any parade of any description ever held in this country before," said General Porter. "It will greatly excel in numbers the combined forces of Sherman's army and the Army of the Potomac, which paraded in Washington after the war.

This will be entirely a foot parade, only the aids and an escort of about two hundred for the grand marshal being mounted. There will be no uniformed mpanies, and political clubs will be barred out, as it is supposed that those of their members who are siness men have joined one or another of the business clubs. Furthermore it will be a genuine New-York business men's parade. We have received offers of co-operation from Boston and New-Jersey, out our ranks will be recruited from this city only. There will be about forty different organizations in line, and about fifty aids stationed at different points to assist in directing their formation and to report progress to the grand marshal. Almost all of the bands in the city will be pressed into service. The horses ridden by the aids and members of the escort will be of a dark color and have docked talls." ROUTE OF THE PARADE.

The head of the parade will form on Broadway, in the neighborhood of Worth-st., and will reach the grandstand in Madison Square at about 10:45 a. m. The several organizations will form at different parts of the city south of Fourteenth-st. Many of them will not fall into line until after the foremost detachments have covered their route and dishanded. The line of march will be north through Broadway, to Waverley Place, thence west to Fifth-ave, and thence General Porter, however, decided yesterday that the route having een definitely settled on, it must be followed out, and there will be no change.

Mayor Strong, to whom an appeal had been made to use his influence to change the route of the parade so that it might march along under the splendid array of McKinley banners on Broadway. agreed that it was too late to make the change. "I should prefer myself that the parade go right up Broadway," His Honor said, "and regret exceedingly that the wishes of so many patriotic citizens cannot be deferred to in this matter. But the route was laid out by the action of the full committee, and I have no right to alter it."

The Mayor's official invitation to citizens to dec). te their buildings on the route and announcing the rate their buildings on the four and and another their of march was issued yesterday. "As president of the Business Men's Republican and Sound Money clubs of the city of New-York," His Honor says, "I am requested to invite all those who are interested in seeking the election of McKinley and Hobart, and the maintenance of sound money and National honor, on Saturday, on the occasion of the parade, to decorate the bulldings and nouses along the route of that parade suitably and properly, that evidence may thus be given of a spirit of patriotism on the part of our citizens and to cheer those who are marching in the procession. EX-MAYOR GRACE ON SILVER QUESTION. Ex-Mayor William R. Grace, of New-York City, who is at his home near Great Neck, said yesterday that he had no doubt that McKinley would be elected President. He says a 50-cen dollar would improve temporarily the condition of the men who raise corn, grain and cotton, because all these articles would be sold at their gold values as represented in the Eastern markets, but values as represented in the Eastern markets, but with the world's labor market open to every man to come to this country, it would be impossible to raise the ralary of any man working by the day, week or year. He says that write his salary would not be advanced, the workingman would be compelled to pay higher prices for the necessaries of life, which would be kept up to the gold standard rate. The ex-Mayor says that the adoption of silver as a basis of currency would materially disturb all the commercial relations of the country and cause great stagnation of business.

Seems as if consumption always picks out the brightest and best. Maybe it seems so because consumption is the most frequent of all diseases. Consumption kills more people than wars or Cholera or Yellow Fever. Fully one-sixth of all the deaths that occur in the world are caused by consumption. And consumption can be cured. Doctors used to say that it was incurable, but the doctors were merely mistaken. It would be strange if medical science did not make some progress. Many things were once considered impossible. The ocean steamer, the locomotive, the telegraph and telephone, the phonograph, the electric light—all these were once impossible, and once it was impossible to cure consumption. That was before the time of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Taken according to directions, this standard remedy will cure of per cent, of all cases of consumption. Consumption is a disease by itself. It is not. It is caused and fostered by impurity in the blood. Purify the blood and restore the healthy action to the various organs of the body and consumption will be cured. It thrives by weakness and loss of vitality in the blood. It is cured by purity and richness of the blood—surely, certainly cured. Those who have consumption or any lingering bronchial, throat or lung disease, and those who are on the road to them, have a positive remedy at hand. Any condition of impurity in the blood, should be attended to at once. Loss of appetite, loss of flesh, loss of vitality, nervousness, weakness and unnatural weariness, are indications that the body is running down. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the appetite good, the digestion strong. It builds up solid, healthy flesh and vigorous strength. Thousands of people have testified that it has really saved their lives. Some of these testimonials, together with hundreds of things that every-body ought to know about health and sickness and medicine, have been embodied in Dr. Pierce's "Common Sense Medical Adviser." This toos page medical work, profusely illustrated, will

They fought fairly, but we have Democrats to fight no longer. The party has been captured by the Popocrats, and no one has dared stand up for the latter with their infamous doctrines excepting William Sulzer. The issues in this campaign have nothing to do with parties or party lines. There is now no difference between Democrats and Republicans. They are together row as they were in '61, fighting a worse enemy than then. It is a dragon with many heads. It represents Secession, Amarchy and Socialism combined. It is for the subversion of law and order and for male rule. This courses all through the platform. It is not a question of silver or tariff, but whether or not the principles of our Constitution shall be continued." The Popogratic leaders in New-York hay taken their cue from Mr. Bryan, and are circulating all sorts of yarns about how large employers compet their employes to wear McKinley but tens, and they give fake accounts of all sorts of coercive methods. Among other stories circulated yesterday was one to the effect that Brooks Brothers had asked their employes to contribute money toward next Saturday's parade. The men bers of the firm made an indignant denial of the story, and said that under the leadership of George H. Stevens the men in their employ had organize a McKinley club, and that they would parade too strong on Saturday. "We asked no one to join the club," a member of the firm said, "and as to any nau in our employ being asked to contribute money toward making the Saturday parade a success—the story is simply faise," Chauncey M. Depew yesterday expressed himself as heartily pleased with General Harrison's denunciation of Bryan's vaporings about coercion. "I told the raifroad men in Rochester," said Mr. Depew, "and i say it again, that the New-York Central Raifroad does not care to know how any man in its employ votes, and the men all along the line are pretty well convinced of the fact. If I should hear of any man tosing his place on account of his political opinions you may rest assured that the person who discharged the man would be reinstated." Ex-Senator Warner Miller was the speaker of the evening Mr. Miller said that during his twenty years' experience in the political harness he had never addressed an audience in this city. Referring to the present price of wheat and silver

If the election was further off, say sixty days, the price of silver would probably be 25 cents as ounce and wheat H a bushel—one of Bryan's beautiful theories exploded. The price of wheat had advanced because of the demand from foreign countries, where there is a short crop, but the bulletin price of silver has depreciated because we have an overcrop.

Bryan, as member of the Ways and Means Company and M mittee of the House of Representatives, said I Miller, voted for the bill which has reduced the prices of wool and hay. In this he might have intended to benefit his neighbor, but did it do it "His idea of free trade," said Mr. Miller, "was bitter dose, but now Bryan proposes another dose that of free silver—one as an antidote to the other. I suppose. But I am afraid it might result the same as in the case of the man who swallowed a potato bug and took a dose of paris green to the it. It killed the bug and man also."
